

Rain clouds could not keep the people away from the Fiesta Kibrahacha!

Everyone always looks forward to the Centro Kibrahacha Fundraising Fiesta, it is not only fun, food and bargains, and it is for the best of causes. Centro Kibrahacha plays a vital role in providing a place for Aruba's elderly to gather for events and daily activities that keep them busy, involved and mentally alert. They have friends that enjoy classes and social events with, and people that care and watch over them. Located in Piera Plat on lovely grounds provided by funds from the Aruba Rotary Club, the center conducted their annual fundraising bazaar on Sunday, and despite threatening weather in the early morning, center director Diana Uchtman reports the fiesta was a great success. Judging from the line waiting for a fresh made lunch from the center's kitchens, one can only agree.

Bargain hunters left with bags of toiletries and sundry items they acquired for a pittance, one lucky boy will have a complete formal suite, tuxedo, pants, bowtie and all for only $28!! Other items for sale included hand made crafts by the center's members, and the staff reports by noon their handicrafts shop was sold out. For those that had enough of shopping, lunch, music and dancing awaited them, and games with prizes kept the children busy. As usual, even with the occasional light drizzle, it was a great day of fun and fundraising at Centro Kibrahacha!
